Based on my records of 1996, here is listing of the GOTV direct mail pieces that I produced for WSRP. Copies of the produced mailing pieces are attached if I had a copy of them available and are marked below with a check. A total of forty pieces were produced but I was only able to find thirty three of them. Let me know if there is anything else you require.

Sincerely,

 Dave Mortenson

GERBERDING: And I... We've marked as an exhibit and it's exhibit 94. A three-page exhibit. The first page of which has a...it's on Dave Mortenson and Associates, Inc. letterhead. It says October 29, 1996. It appears to be an invoice for $24,000 and then there's a Washington State Republican Party check stub at the bottom. The second page is a purchase order from the Washington State Republican Party dated 10-30-96, total cost $24,000 and this is to Dave Mortenson and Associates, Inc.. Then the third page is a letter on Dave Mortenson and Associates, Inc. letterhead to the state party dated May 22, 1996, signed by Dave Mortenson, and it list several candidates with checkmarks by most of the candidates at the bottom. Do you...do you recognize this first page of the document?

MORTENSON: Yes. that's...that's an invoice that I produced.

GERBERDING: Okay. And so you were paid $24,000 by the state party for services provided during the 1996 election?

MORTENSON: That's correct. Yeah.

GERBERDING: And what...what did you do for the party for those services?

MORTENSON: What I did for them was I produced, wrote, and designed direct mail pieces, and then helped with coordination and production of those pieces through art and graphics and through the printing process to get them to the mailhouse.

GERBERDING: And who are these...and I guess turning to the third page of the exhibit, are these the...the candidates that...is this a list of the candidates for whom you did direct mail pieces?

MORTENSON: Yeah, I...this is actually...I noticed this should be 1997, the date on that...that...that was an error on my part.

GERBERDING: On the...the....the...

MORTENSON: Yeah.

GERBERDING: The third page.

MORTENSON: Yeah.

GERBERDING: Okay.

MORTENSON: I got a call from them and...I had provided them a listing when I did this...they had a listing but apparently they lost it, so they called me back and what I wen...I went through my copies, and where I was able find it, I remembered that I did it. That is what this is. I...I...I think, I don't know if its a complete list cause I...I couldn't find my records of who I did, but these are the ones that I...I could remember and had copies of pieces of.

YOUNG: Two separate pieces, sequential in order.

MORTENSON: Oh.

GERBERDING: Well... We're back on the record, and also we had as exhibit number 96 would be exhibit numbers...or the numbers provided by the state party 624319 through 624322, a piece for Karen Frederick and then a I Like Mike...

MORTENSON: Mike Carroll.

GERBERDING: Mike Carroll piece. And these are also pieces that you did?

MORTENSON: That's correct.

GERBERDING: Okay. And you...you stated earlier that you produced, wrote, and designed these pieces. Was there anything else that you did? There may have been one other thing that you said that you assisted in getting that...

MORTENSON: I just assisted the production process in where it's got the...the meti....the work necessary to get to the printer so they could print them, and then from the printer make sure they got to the mailhouse, so it's a logistic support.

GERBERDING: Okay. And...so exhibit number 95 appears to contain...but these are all pieces for state candidates?

MORTENSON: Legi....legislative candidates.

GERBERDING: Okay. Okay.

MORTENSON: I think they're all House candidates too.

GERBERDING: Okay. Now you...you also...you had stated on the break that there was a person named Doug Simpson who did pieces for the state party?

MORTENSON: I...I think so. I'm not...I mean, my understanding was there was a number of people they consulted with.

GERBERDING: Right. And who...do you know of anyone else who did direct mail work for the party, besides say the Madison Group?

MORTENSON: I...I know there were a lot of pieces being done, and I was really more focused on what I was doing, so I...once I got mine done, I was just happy.

GERBERDING: Okay.

MORTENSON: It was a real short time for me.

GERBERDING: And did you have any discussions with...who...who is your contact at the party?

of $24,000. And the attached documents that we have are an invoice from Dave Mortenson and Associates to the Washington State Republican Party, total due $24,000 a check stub showing the $24,000, payment was on the same page. And then the third page is a purchase order to Dave Mortenson and Associates in the amount of $24,000 dated 10-30-96. And finally, we have a May 22nd, 9996....1996 letter on Dave Mortenson and Associates Inc. letterhead to the state party from Mr. Mortenson where he lists several candidates with check marks next to most of them. Do you...

YOUNG: I believe the date on that should be 1997.

GERBERDING: On the letter from Mr. Mortenson?

YOUNG: Yeah. Based on my records of 1996.

WHITE: Okay.

GERBERDING: Well, we'll...we'll ask Mr. Rogers whether he knows. D...You're familiar with Dave Mortenson?

ROGERS: Oh, I know Dave.

GERBERDING: Do you know what Dave Mortenson did for the party for this $24,000 payment?

ROGERS: No, I don't. I...I....I just...I don't know about this.

GERBERDING: What types of things...are you familiar with Mr. Mortenson's business?

ROGERS: Yeah...well, he doe...he is a political consultant. And I know that we had asked for help on Get-Out-The-Vote....on the Get-Out-The-Vote efforts coordinating statewide to make sure that we had a good turn out from Republicans. But these...this list here, I...I don't know. I know we paid him a consulting fee.

GERBERDING: So you don't....you don't know what he did for the....?

ROGERS: I th....I think that's a...I think that's a fair statement. Brian was working directly with him.

GERBERDING: Okay.

ROGERS: Can....I need to ask you a question. I can tell you from looking at this....I don't know how....I don't know if Brian and Dave got their signals mixed up or we were talking about different things, but I can tell you 100% for certain that the can...that these campaigns that are listed here, these names, these are candidate specific mail pieces. meaning issue related things that would promote the candidate. This is not a part of the GOTV plan as I would have understood it. Now there....Brian and Dave I want to say, and I'm not pointing fingers at Brian or Dave either one, they may have had a different understanding, and I might have mis-spoken and given directions differently, or Brian could have, or Dave could have or whatever the case may be, but I can tell you that this mail plan looks consistent for state House people that would have been on our targeted list that Dave would have written candidate specific mail for and not things that I consider GOTV.

GERBERDING: Okay. So on the purchase order where it says project name GOTV statewide, that....if you...I...I see you approved the purchase order, but if you had known that...if....that these were pieces, direct mail pieces, you would not have put it under the GOTV statewide category?

ROGERS: No.

GERBERDING: Okay.

ROGERS: And I don't know if...that may very well be a mistake on my part for not asking questions that I should have...I don't know what else to say about that.

GERBERDING: Okay. Do you know whether the....the non-federal share of this expenditure was paid out of hard money or soft money?

ROGERS: I don't know, but it all should have been paid out of hard money. And I can tell you right off the bat without any doubt whatsoever.

GERBERDING: Okay.

ROGERS: That's just no doubt about that. That is an error on our part. We made a mistake there.

WHITE: If it were paid out of the soft money.

ROGERS: Yeah, if it were paid out of soft money, we made a mistake.

GERBERDING: Would....would there be some...Normally if a ...if a federal expenditure...if hard money was transferred up to pay for a portion of a federal expenditure, where would we see that? Would it be on the purchase order or....?

ROGERS: My point is this...on this one....this....

Some people say there's no real difference between Republicans and Democrats.

That's wrong.

While Democrats talk about new spending, higher taxes and more regulations, our Party stands up for hard working families and small business owners.

Our candidates are committed to cutting spending, reducing taxes, and getting the bureaucrats out of our daily lives.

On November 5th, the future of our state and nation is on the line.

Vote Republican.

Dear Kelly,

Thank you for your interest in supporting Senate Republican races in Washington State. As you are aware - a republican majority in the state senate is of vital importance to all of us.

Please join with us in supporting our senate races with your contribution of $5,000 to the Senate Republican Campaign Committee.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Dan McDonald
Senate Republican Leader

October 25, 1996, from Dan McDonald to Kelley Rogers. Can you....are you familiar with this letter, the last page?

ROGERS: Yes.

GERBERDING: And are you familiar with the...the party's contribution to the SRCC?

ROGERS: Yes.

GERBERDING: And what was the purpose of that contribution?

ROGERS: Dan had called, and they was getting late into October and they were running out money, and they had some ongoing GOTV programs and things like that that they wanted to complete, and he asked for a $5,000 donation, so we sent it to him.

GERBERDING: So when he says in his letter, "Please join with us in supporting our Senate races with your contribution of $5,000 to the Senate Republican Campaign Committee," it was your understanding that....that the SRCC was going to use this money for a ongoing GOTV program?

ROGERS: Like some type of a turnout program or something like that to support their candidates.

GERBERDING: Okay. And who made the decision...on the third page of the purchase order, is there something on here that would indicate which account this was to be paid from on this purchase order?

ROGERS: I bel....yes, 9820, the account number.

GERBERDING: Is that....is that the federal account number?

ROGERS: Yeah. That would be the GOTV party building account number. Anything that comes out of that particular number...you know, we have a number of codes that we try to use to keep for our internal tracking that we try to use to keep, so we're sure that each specific line item gets charged to the appropriate account. So anything out of 9820, we would know that that will be party building, something like Get-Out-The-Vote or something like that that should be paid through the federal account.

GERBERDING: And do you know what, in fact, the SRCC did with this money?

ROGERS: No, I don't.

GERBERDING: Okay. Do you have any follow-up on that, Kurt?

YOUNG: I don't.

GERBERDING: Okay. And what types of things do you do in that regard?

OLSON: Everything from pick up the mail to, you know, keep supplies on hand to raising money, setting up fund-raisers, organizing direct mail, and making sure we have money for our candidates.

GERBERDING: Okay. I'm handing or actually you've been provided with....why don't we take a look at this one. I'm going to mark as exhibit number 173. And the reason I'm marking it as exhibit number 173 is that we've already had some interviews in this investigation, so we're...that's the number that we're at. So as I....number 173, it's a check stub from the Washington State Republican Party to the Senate Republican Campaign Committee in the amount of $5,000. The second page of the exhibit is a Schedule B, Itemized Disbursements from the Washington State Republican Party federal account which shows a $5,000 contribution to the Senate Republican Campaign Committee. The third page of the exhibit is a purchase order on....on Washington State Republican Party letterhead to the SRCC in the amount of....of $5,000. And then finally the fourth page is a letter dated October 25th, 1996 to Kelley Rogers from Senate Republican Leader Dan McDonald, and that is on SRCC letterhead. Do you recall the state party making a...a $5,000 contribution to the SRCC in 1996?

OLSON: Vaguely. Um-hum

GERBERDING: Okay. And do you know what the purpose of that contribution was?

OLSON: Support of candidates, I would assume at that point.

GERBERDING: And when you say you would assume, you're not entirely sure?

OLSON: Well....well, it...it just stands to reason that coming in at the end of October, the last few weeks before the....the election, that it would be for support of candidates.

GERBERDING: Okay. And does the language in Senator McDonald's letter...does that assist you at all? He says, please, join us...with us in supporting our Senate races.

OLSON: Um-hum.

GERBERDING: So that's consistent?

OLSON: Yes.

GERBERDING: Okay. Kurt, did you have any other questions about that?

YOUNG: Do you recall if there's any discussions about which account the party would pay you from?

OLSON: No.

YOUNG: Okay.

OLSON: I have no idea.

YOUNG: Okay.

OLSON: I had my hands full doing our own book work.

GERBERDING: Did you...I noticed on the third page, the purchase order. It says that it was requested, or this is a WSRP document which says it was requested by Sandy....Dan McDonald.

OLSON: Um-hum.

GERBERDING: Do you recall requesting?

OLSON: I don't specifically, but it doesn't surprise me that, you know, if in....if in visiting with Kelley or with Ken Eikenberry that we would have said, you know, any....if you have extra funds, you know, we could use that for....because we were trying to get all of candidates maximum funds.

GERBERDING: Okay.

YOUNG: What types of Get Out To Vote activities did the SRCC undertake?

OLSON: I...I...I don't....Nothing directly. Other than in....in some of your other documents which you'll get to later, you know...I don't know, other than I knew that their exempt fund is used to...for Get Out To Vote purposes or voter ID purposes. I...I...that's what I've been told.

GERBERDING: The state party's exempt fund?

OLSON: Yes. Yes. So I don't know, other than the money that comes into the campaign committee is used directly for candidate support.

GERBERDING: Okay.

YOUNG: So it wouldn't had been a Get Out To Vote directed by the Senate Republican Campaign Committee?

OLSON: No, not that....not that I was aware of.

YOUNG: Okay.

GERBERDING: Okay. All right. The next exhibit, we will mark as exhibit number 236. And the first page of this exhibit is a Schedule B to the Washington State Republican Party federal account...shows several contributions to different county Republican committees, and the description is all...include GOTV and most of them appear to be for phone banks. And then the second page is a GO...a check stub, GOTV phone bank, Clark County Republican Central Committee in the amount of $2,500. The third page is the corresponding purchase order from the party to the Cla...Clark County Republican Party. The fourth page is a check stub, GOTV phone bank to the Thurston Count Republican Party in the amount of $3,500. The fifth page is the corresponding Washington State Republican Party purchase order to the Thurston County Republican Party. The sixth page is a check stub in the amount of $5,000 to the Snohomish County Republican Party for a Get-Out-The-Vote program. The seventh page is the corresponding Washington State Republican Party purchase order in the amount of $5,000. The eighth page is a check in the amount...check stub in the amount of $5,000 to the Snohomish Republican Party in the amount of $5,000. And then what appears to be a corresponding purchase order from the Washington State Republican Party in that same amount to the Snohomish County Central Committee, and the tenth page is a check stub in the amount of $1,867.59 to the Pierce County Republican Central Committee, and the description is phone bill. And then the 11th page is a fax transmittal to Kelley Rogers from Ron Talcott, a phone bill for phone bank, and it comes to that same amount, $1,867.59. And then we have what appears to be a phone bill to the Pierce...a US West Communications phone bill, Pierce County Republican Central Committee bill dated October 5th, 1996.

WHITE: And that's 2 pages?

GERBERDING: It's 2 pages. So that will be pages 12 and 13. Are you familiar with these contributions to the different county committees?

ROGERS: Yes.

GERBERDING: And what was the purpose of these contributions?

ROGERS: This was a...a supplemental effort on our GOTV program to what we were doing statewide that we controlled for....for the standard GOTV program. In October, we begin to realize that we were gonna be in real trouble in terms of Republican turn out just because of the...the political environment for Republicans, there wasn't a lot of enthusiasm. And in areas where we felt we needed to do well, we needed big...big Republican turn outs. And where we thought we had the most capable Republican organizations, we asked would they line up volunteers and activist if we would bear the cost of whatever it cost, either the rental of the telephones, installation, rental of a building to work from, whatever the case might be. We would help come up with the money to do that, if they would organize the volunteers, feeling like that if we had a more local touch...sometimes people in Jefferson County can motivate people better than a paid phone bank from Missouri or somewhere. And so we thought that this would be one additional asset to us in terms of a turnout.

GERBERDING: And do you know what the nature of the calls, say for example that the Clark County Republican Party made?

WHITE: Do you mean specifically or generally?

GERBERDING: Well, what were your in....did you....did you give these different committees instructions as to what they were to use the money for or....

ROGERS: Yeah, but....Okay. I'm not following you.

GERBERDING: Well, okay. You said that...that you put...you're....you're asking them if they could put together, it appears to be a phone bank.

ROGERS: Yeah.

GERBERDING: Right?

ROGERS: Right.

GERBERDING: Okay. And did you give them instructions as to what the nature of that phone bank....what the nature of the calls would be that would be made from the phone bank?

ROGERS: Yes.

GERBERDING: Well, what were your instructions?

ROGERS: I told them that what we wanted to do is we wanted to call all of the....each county would have a list of their identified Republicans, and caucus attendees, and things like that, and I told them that what I wanted them to do was go through and make sure they had contacted every Republican 2 or 3 times, if they could get them prior to the election and asked 2 questions. 1. Did you vote absentee or do you vote absentee, and if so have you returned your ballot, number 1. And then number 2, if they don't vote absentee to remind them that they need to go to the polls on election day. And so these processes were just....it was an ongoing, you know, I...I told them if the moment that

Comments:

Hi Kelley! Ron Talcott asked me to ask you to help us with a problem. US West wants a $300 per phone deposit for the 15 phone bank phones that were just installed. And they want it yesterday, of course.

Could you please let Ron or me know if this is something that the State Party can help with? I'm sure the $4,500 would be returned unless we go bankrupt and can't pay our bill. :)

Thanks, Kelley! Ron can be reached at 206.564.9779 and I'm at 206.383.1795.

GERBERDING: So the results of the survey were then conveyed to the Swecker....?

SHORE: Yeah, to John Meyers who was their political consultant. And in the case of the 18th District, I was the political consultant working for Zarelli, and so I was aware of the results as soon as they were tallied.

GERBERDING: And did you take any action based on the results?

SHORE: We were doing about where we thought we'd be. Yes, I mean, we continued with program that we had in practice.

GERBERDING: Okay. Kurt, do you have any other questions about....?

YOUNG: No, just other than the fact that the names listed indicate this, the two surveys were for the '96 election.

GERBERDING: Would you agree with that, Mr. Shore?

SHORE: Sure.

GERBERDING: Okay. And then I'm now looking at an invoice number 51, Polis Political Services, Inc. billed to 16400 South Center Parkway, attention Kelley Rogers for Consulting Services, in the amount of $2,500. Do you know what this....

SHORE: This was to run Zarelli's campaign. I....

YOUNG: Did you do work on behalf of the party for Z....Zarelli in '95?

SHORE: Z....I....Yeah. Well, I....I ran Zarelli's campaign, I believe, just after the primary, as I'm trying to remember. I think I did the work not knowing who was gonna pay me, whether it would be the party, the caucus, or Zarelli. And...You see the notation on this, it says Martin Flynn ask that I send this to you. So what happened, I believe, was after the campaign ended, we resolved who was gonna be paying it. The....the....I don't believe that there was a lot of party mail in this campaign for Zarelli and so nor was there a lot of contributions by the SRCC, so there was never....nobody was getting near any limits. I don't recall and so it was semi-casual matter about which of the three entities would be paying the bill.

GERBERDING: And Martin Flynn is with Senate Republican Campaign Committee?

SHORE: Yes.

GERBERDING: Okay. Kurt, did you have any other questions?

Kelly -

Sam Reed asked that I send you the bill for the LD22 survey. I sent the topline report and crosstabs to Sam, but if you'd like a copy please let me know.

POLIS had to pay our polling company's rush charge and survey costs in advance, thus a quick turnaround on this invoice would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you,

GERBERDING: Okay. And then the next invoice is invoice number 267, Polis Political Services to the state party in the amount of $1,800 and I believe that you provided us with a....a copy of that survey, questions for the 22nd District with numbers crossed out?

SHORE: Yes.

GERBERDING: Okay. And what...what was the purpose of this survey?

SHORE: This was done for the House Candidates in the 22nd to assess their strength after the primary, going into the....the general election, and I think, the state party was trying to decide with Thelma Jackson campaign had a....you know, a strong campaign and had a chance of winning.

GERBERDING: To de....to determine whether they would support financially?

SHORE: Yes. Well, I don....I don't know why they wanted to know.

GERBERDING: Okay. But that's...Did they tell you...

SHORE: Do they k....they just told me they wanted to know....

GERBERDING: Okay.

SHORE: That's why they wanted to know. A...I mean, the note...the accompanying note says Kelley. Sam Reed asked that I send you the bill for LD22 survey. So the....the survey was done and given to Sam Reed.

GERBERDING: Who is Sam Reed?

SHORE: Sam Reed is the Thurston County Auditor and an activist in Thurston County and a participant in these....in one of these campaigns. And....so we....we supplied the survey information to the state, to the campaign and then clearly the campaign asked the state party to pay for it, which they did.

GERBERDING: So you provided the survey directly, the results of the survey directly to....?

SHORE: Yes.

GERBERDING: The....

SHORE: Campaign.

WHITE: Objection asked and answered. Unless I instruct you not to answer, you can go ahead and answer his question and if I think it's objectionable.

BEDLINGTON: Could you rephrase that?

GERBERDING: Well, do you....do you....

BEDLINGTON: Respeak that?

GERBERDING: Do you remember any of the details of....of your discussions with....with Mr. Curb about orders placed?

BEDLINGTON: Yes, I would check with him and say is there anything that I should know....are there anything about orders placed that I should know about these candidates, because I'm gonna do a r....report.

GERBERDING: A PDC report?

BEDLINGTON: Yes. That was the nature of my conversation with him.

GERBERDING: What is your understanding of when an expenditure in support of a candidate by the party becomes reportable to the PDC?

WHITE: Objection to the extent that it calls for legal conclusion from the witness.

GERBERDING: You may answer.

BEDLINGTON: S...s...say that again, please.

GERBERDING: What....what's your understanding of when the party incurs a reporting obligation, when it is the process of making an expenditure to a candidate?

WHITE: Same objection.

BEDLINGTON: Well, purchase order is issued and the account number or if...or description was saying that this is in support of a candidate, and that's when I'd know if it was, and if the candidate was stated on that purchase order. So if I would write the check, then I'd know. When I wrote the check, I would know that it was from that purchase order that stated that it was this candidate.

GERBERDING: Okay. But....Did you....Was that the point that you believed that the party had a reporting obligation with the PDC at the point the check was written for the services?

WHITE: Objection to the extent it calls for a legal conclusion for the witness and also objection, asked and answered.

BEDLINGTON: I...I don't know whether obligation would, but I knew if I had a purchase order issued and when I wrote the check, I knew that everything in that check registered was reportable to PDC. All the activity in this state checking account was reportable to PDC.

GERBERDING: But if there wasn't a check written, you didn't report it, correct?

WHITE: Go ahead.

BEDLINGTON: If I had a purchase order I would report it as orders placed.

GERBERDING: But no one ever came to you and said, say someone at the party who was working with a candidate, they....did anyone ever come to you and say hey, I have an agreement to do with a vendor to do a piece for a candidate, we need to repla....we need to report that agreement, short of giving you a purchase order?

BEDLINGTON: No.

GERBERDING: Who provided the purchase orders to you?

BEDLINGTON: Well, different people in the office, but it had to be authorized by the Executive Director.

GERBERDING: Kurt has handed Ms. Bedlington a copy of the first page of exhibits 29, 49, and 62. Do you recognize...

WHITE: These are not the complete exhibits?

GERBERDING: The first page of. Do you recognize these documents?

BEDLINGTON: Yes.

GERBERDING: And what.....what are these documents?

BEDLINGTON: This is an attachment to the Schedule B for Debts and Obligations to the Public Disclosure Commission. It's....it's.....it's an attachment to the C-4 and this all came out of the candidate account.

GERBERDING: Okay. And it's for the period October 29....

— BEDLINGTON: 29th through November 30th, yes.

Re: The Washington Lincoln Group, Ltd.: Request for Information
Our File No. 103847/110874

Dear Mr. Young:

This is in response to your letter of November 25, 1997. Your letter enclosed a number of invoices from my client to the WSRP, as well as some invoices from James Maryea, also to the WSRP. In regards to these invoices, you asked us to provide: (a) the date the "agreement" was entered into; (b) the design/layout date of the brochure; (c) the date the brochure was written; (d) the printing date of the brochure; and (e) the date the brochure was mailed. My client has the following response.

As a preliminary matter, it is difficult for us to provide you with the precise information you request. First, as Mr. Meyers discussed during his interview, his partner historically handled the "business" end of the Washington Lincoln Group's operations. Unfortunately, his partner had a stroke, which resulted in some gaps in the company's bookkeeping.

Second, and more important, the company did not seek nor obtain written agreements for its work for the WSRP pertaining to the pieces covered by the invoices you enclosed with your letter. Instead, the work was usually authorized during a telephone call. My client does not maintain a written log of such phone calls, nor did it keep notes of such conversations. Once authorized, a draft copy was produced, usually faxed to the WSRP for its approval, and then sent out to the printer. If a piece was produced completely "in house" the date of design and the date it was written were the same. However, if it was "jobbed" out to an artist, the dates would be different. Often, the entire authorization to printer process would occur within 48 hours of the initial phone conversation. In short, there were no formal contracts, and it is difficult if not impossible to give you a precise date.

Mr. Kurt Young
 December 12, 1997

As to the date each piece was printed, we have reviewed invoices where my client controlled the printing. However, as noted during Mr. Meyers interview, at some point during the campaign the WSRP asked my client to delay paying print vendors until after the election. My client refused for its own business reasons. As a compromise, the party arranged for some printers to bill the party directly. Nonetheless, we have attempted to match the printer's invoices you have provided to the correct job, and also attempted to identify who we believe printed other pieces; however, this involved a certain amount of speculation on my client's part.

Finally, we have a similar problem regarding the date each piece was mailed. We know the "target date" for mailing (the date my client wanted each piece mailed). However, the various mail houses work on their own schedules, and the Post Office's pink slips were mailed directly to the WSRP. Accordingly, we are unable to confirm the exact date each piece went into the mail.

With the foregoing in mind, the following dates are to the best of my client's recollection and/or estimate:

Slate Tabloid: Regarding the slate tabloid the Washington Lincoln Group, Ltd. produced for the Washington State Party. My client remembers pitching the idea of inserting a slate card into newspapers throughout the state to Kelley Rogers at a breakfast meeting in late September or early October 1996. He called my client that same afternoon and authorized the job. My client immediately began designing and writing the piece and obtaining photographs and statements from the various statewide candidates that would be included on the slate. It contracted with the Seattle Times for the printing and distribution of the slate tabloids to the major newspapers in the state. Our production schedule was, approximately, as follows:

Copy approved by WSRP on or about October 10, 1996.
 Design and negatives completed by October 17, 1996.
 Printing completed by October 22, 1996 and delivered to papers.
 October 28 all newspapers insert the slate cards, except the Times/PI which would insert on Wednesday.

I hope these responses are satisfactory. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call me. Finally, as a reminder, we would appreciate receiving both a copy of the tape and a transcript of Mr. Meyers' interview with you and Mr. Gerberding at your earliest convenience.

Very truly yours,

SCHWABE, WILLIAMSON & WYATT, P.C.

GERBERDING: Okay. Okay. So whenever you notified the PDC, you would notify the candidate?

BEDLINGTON: Not in every case.

GERBERDING: Only if....In what cases would you do so?

BEDLINGTON: I'm....I'm....Okay. Cause I may have made more than one expenditure, and every time I did that I notified the PDC. But I didn't always notify the candidate, because that gave the candidate too much paper, and he added them altogether and then added up the total and it was too confusing to the candidate, I'm sorry to say.

GERBERDING: Well, how do you know it was too confusing to the candidate?

BEDLINGTON: Because when I spoke to them, they said...they'd asked this question, if I'd speak to them, if I'd call them. If they....or they'd call me and they say this....is this an addition to something or this is something separate from what you told me before and....

GERBERDING: I see. So....

BEDLINGTON: I tried to confine my communication with the candidate to as little paper as possible, so they could be accurate in their reporting.

GERBERDING: Would you....would you hold off until you had a cer....over a certain amount or a certain number of contributions before you notified the candidate?

BEDLINGTON: Probably until I prepared my C4.

GERBERDING: So you'd hold off until the end of a certain period?

BEDLINGTON: Yes.

WHITE: So that you'd give them all the contributions during a given period?

BEDLINGTON: That's right.

GERBERDING: Do you...can we....let's....let's go off the record just for a moment here. Ms. Bedlington, do you know...taking a look at exhibit 199, which we already looked at the fax transmission sheet to Mike Floyd, do you know whether this facsimile went through?

BEDLINGTON: I'll assume it did, because there isn't that...

GERBERDING: If...

BEDLINGTON: And I....I don't recall exactly how that went.

GERBERDING: Okay. Now the...it's says that there's a mailing that you did on Mr. Benson's behalf on 9-11-96. Where would....where would you have obtained that date, 9-11-96?

BEDLINGTON: I don't recall from some staff member.

GERBERDING: Okay. And so this letter, your letter is 5 days after the 11th. Would that have raised any concerns with you?

BEDLINGTON: No.

GERBERDING: Okay. Okay. And....

YOUNG: Would you have communicated with Mr. Benson in any other way about this in kind contribution?

BEDLINGTON: I don't remember what the time frame was, but there w...were instances where we did phone calls and probably a fax is my recollection.

GERBERDING: But are....do you know specifically whether you had made a phone call?

BEDLINGTON: No.

GERBERDING: Okay. Did you always make phone calls?

BEDLINGTON: No.

GERBERDING: Was there any system that you had in place, phone call followed by a letter or was just whatever you could get done. How....how did that work?

BEDLINGTON: Pretty much whatever I could get done.

GERBERDING: Okay.

BEDLINGTON: I tried to....to fax them information, if the....they had fax number available.

GERBERDING: Was...

BEDLINGTON: It was easier than taking time to do phone calls.

GERBERDING: Okay. Okay. We're....we're back on the record. Tape number 2 of Ms. Bedlington's interview on 10-15-97. And you had just stated that....that you faxed....sometimes you faxed a notification to a candidate and that that was easier than making a phone call. Is that right?

BEDLINGTON: That's right, for me it was.

GERBERDING: Okay. Was there any....was there any...did the timeliness of the notification ever come into play as whether you would make a phone call, a fax, or write a letter?

WHITE: I'll object to the form of the question.

GERBERDING: Were you....when you....was a fax preferable to a letter in your eyes? Was that easier than a letter?

BEDLINGTON: It was quicker than a letter. In most cases, if I faxed, I would say this, put a notation on the fax, this will be followed-up by a letter...confirmed by a letter.

GERBERDING: And why would you need to confirm with a letter?

BEDLINGTON: I just thought I had to.

GERBERDING: Okay. And was there any....did....did you do the faxing because you thought that there was a time that they needed to be notified?

BEDLINGTON: I believe that was the....the reason that I did that. To give them as fast as I could.

GERBERDING: Okay. But you were...

BEDLINGTON: It was faster than a letter.

GERBERDING: Okay. But you weren't aware of any specific time requirement for providing notification?

BEDLINGTON: It was probably in the book, but it was not in my mind. I was trying to keep all the balls in the air.

GERBERDING: Okay. Okay. Do you have any more questions about that? Okay. And exhibit.... We'll mark as exhibit number 190 a copy of a letter dated September 16, 1996, to Ms. DeYoung from Joan Bedlington. Do you recognize this...this letter in general in terms?

BEDLINGTON: In general? Yes.

GERBERDING: Okay. And this appears to be a letter....a noti....a similar notification letter to Ms. DeYoung?

BEDLINGTON: Yes.
